

Standard Finish for Cedar Wood Poles

Wood poles can be manufactured from cedar instead of the more commonly utilized western Douglas fir. Cedar poles are not treated with pentachlorophenol as this wood naturally inhibits insects and resists decay.

Cedar Poles provide a good choice where chemically-treated wood may be of some concern, such as children's playgrounds and picnic areas. In addition, cedar poles provide the additional aesthetic benefit of the natural beauty this wood presents.

Cedar Wood Pole Section

